Live Call Transfers - How To Make Your Phone Ring!

By Chaz Wilke, Content Writer

09 July 2014

Live call transfers, also commonly referred to as hot transfers, forward interested and qualified leads right to your phone. Historically, you would have to scramble to contact those incoming Internet leads. We have previously established that a lead cools off in mere minutes. So, each second you delay making contact with a prospect costs you money and diminishes the chance of converting that lead into a customer.

With live call transfers much of that initial-contact headache disappears. Prospects are given a number to call, and after a quick series of qualifying questions to pre-screen each lead, the potential customer gets transferred to you.

All you need to do is pick up your phone!

Live call transfers make your phone ring with interested leads ready and waiting to be sold a mortgage. Since you are almost immediately connected with a lead who intends to buy, the initial hurdles to a closing are swept away. This gives you a great chance to boost your conversion numbers and increase your income!

Chase-Free Mortgage Leads

The biggest benefit of live call transfers is that you are spared the burden of having to chase down a mortgage lead after receiving it. Leads cost you money, so it makes sense to maximize their sales potential. Live call transfers are a speedy connection to prospects, and that will help you get the highest conversion rate on your leads.

Why Live Call Transfers?

- Calm Mortgage Leads

Live call transfer leads call you, not the other way around. Because of that they will feel more in control and more at ease since they initiated contact. With a calm and attentive lead on the other end of the call, your job is a lot easier.

- Interested Mortgage Leads

Every lead that decides to pick up the phone is far more interested than a mere window shopper. The very act of calling proves that they are hungry for a mortgage. Use this as a confidence booster when selling them on your product.

- Exclusive Mortgage Leads

You can take your time with each call because every lead is exclusive. You don't have to race through the process or be pushy. After all, you won't lose that lead to a competitor. Instead, you can focus on helping the lead through the sales funnel.

- Mortgage Leads Tracking Framework

Destination Leads keeps records of all incoming calls we send to you. You can then record the detailed outcome of each call. This makes tracking your leads as simple, straightforward and as in-depth as you wish.

Takeaway

We know your time is important. We understand that you don't want to spend your days chasing down each lead. Conversion is everything to you and you want the best possible chance to turn those leads into customers. That's why Destination Leads offers live call transfers as part of our direct call program. Take control of your conversion funnel, and save time and money by having the leads call you!
